

Whistle

Violence amongst people has been something in our history for a long time. Domestic Abuse is an act sad to say won't go away either. Most kids who come from these households end up in foster care, runaways or carry the same behavior they witnessed in the home. The only solution to a problem like this is to get the courage & mind to get help. Between 960 thousand to 3 million incidents of domestic violence are reported each year, while many other incidents go unreported. It's estimated more than 10 million people experience domestic violence in the U.S. each year. This crime deals specifically with the Psychology in the relationship. But only the victim can blow their own whistle and say it's time to get out of this.
